

What is Charting the LifeCourse?

The Charting the LifeCourse (CtLC) framework was created to help individuals and families of all abilities and all ages develop a vision for a good life, think about what they need to know and do, identify how to find or develop supports, and discover what it takes to live the lives they want to live. The framework is the keystone for supporting a community of learning that champions transformational change through knowledge exchange, capacity building and collaborative engagement.

Core Belief: All people have the right to live, love, work, play and pursue their own life aspirations.

Trajectory to a Good Life

Supporting Positive Life Experiences

WHAT I DON'T WANT:
Preventing Negative
Life Experiences

Life Domains and Life Stages

Daily Life & Employment

What a person does as part of everyday life—school, employment, volunteering, communication, routines, life skills.

Prenatal/Infancy

From conception through the earliest years of life or babyhood.

Community Living

Where and how someone lives – housing and living options, community access, transportation, home adaptations and modifications.

Early Childhood

The time in a child's life before they begin school full time.

Healthy Living

Managing and accessing health care and staying well – medical, mental health, behavioral health, developmental, wellness and nutrition.

School Age

The years from kindergarten through middle school.

Safety & Security

Staying safe and secure – emergencies, well-being, guardianship options, legal rights and issues.

Transition to Adulthood

Moving from childhood to young adulthood and from school to adult life.

Social & Spirituality

Building friendships and relationships, leisure activities, personal networks, and faith community.

Adulthood

Period of time after we transition from school years through the time we begin entering our golden years.

Advocacy & Engagement

Building valued roles, making choices, setting goals, assuming responsibility and driving how one's own life is lived.

Aging

The golden years are when we begin to slow down and experience many age-related changes.

Person within the Context of Family & Community

Its important that services do not become a barrier to relationships and community life.

All people and their families receive integrated supports and services for a "good life."
