“Guiding your transition-age child or adult with disabilities towards independence”

On November 10, 2022 (6:00 pm - 7:30 pm), Dr. Reggie Candio, NSP, PsyD, Owner and Chief Psychologist at PsychoEd Specialist, LLC and Psychologist and Educational Consultant at Autism Spectrum Diagnostics and Consulting, will share strategies to help parents, guardians and caregivers guide individuals with special needs, ages 14 through adulthood, transition towards becoming more independent.

Dr. Candio is a Nationally Certified School Psychologist and educational consultant, who holds credentials in the state of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware. He received his training from the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine, and specializes in Autism, Aspergers and ADHD. He is also skilled in identifying emotional, behavioral and learning disabilities. Dr. Candio has a strong background in educational consultation, staff training, intervention planning and psychoeducational, neuropsychological and vocational assessment.

Dr. Candio takes a unique strengths-based and multi-systems approach to service delivery, which he believes is crucial in optimizing the learning and workplace performance of his clients. He has accumulated a wealth of diverse experiences from his involvement with a wide variety of educational settings and mental health systems throughout his 10 year career. Dr. Candio strives to combine this expertise with collaborative relationship building to meet the specific needs of his clients.

THIS WEBINAR IS FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC.

About Adult & Recreation Services

Adult and Recreation Services (ARS) offers educational and recreational programming for people, 7–34 years of age, with special needs and learning challenges. ARS includes a traditional day and overnight camp (VFES @ Camp Kweebec), year-round retreats and respite, and social programs. Its adult services also include Customized Workforce Solutions (CWS), which provides employment and coaching support to adults with special needs, ages 18 and older.
